every concert given since the band was formed large crowds have been enthusiastic in their appreciation, and it is anticipated that thousands will hear the concert, which opens at 3 o'clock Sunday. The programme is as follows:

Grand march and chorus from Semiramide Rossini
Selection—Johannes Sullivan
Waltz—Blue Danube Strauss
American sketch—Down South Myddleton

Synopsis: The sketch opens with a quaint dance. The first two movements depict the restless nature of the languid Southern dandy. The trio introduces a tuneful melody, which is hummed by a majority of the band, and the audience carried away with the drowsy strain finds itself unconsciously humming with the band.

Overture—Mazurka Auber
Daniel Francis Auber, the author of this brilliant overture, was born at Caen on January 29, 1782, and died at Paris May 12, 1871, at the age of eighty-nine years. He was a most prolific writer, his works being characterized by sparkling vivacity, grace and eloquence, clear and poignant melody together with a lightness of expression and facility of invention which marks him as a true son of France. Of his many works which merited a succession of popular successes, Mazurka is undoubtedly the best. Written in 1813 it won for its author immediate success both for its melodic beauty and the patriotism contained in the subject: from an historical point of view, it must be considered as commemorating the most important period in the history of French grand opera. Auber put much of his work into his overtures and the present instance is characterized by a dash and spirit which is maintained to the end. A succession of subjects which sparkle in their bright and cheerful realism follow each other in rapid succession, being relieved only by short—quaint—movement which serves to portray the pathos under-

MacLEAN EXPLAINS TURNOVER TAX AT CHAMBER MEETING

"If the Government finds that there is a general sentiment in favor of the change, it would proceed to work out the details of its administration," said Dr. MacLean.

Before proceeding to the main part of his address he made a few general references to the history and development of taxation. He pointed out that the earliest taxation was imposed upon land, as the country developed industrially new forms of taxation were imposed in order to comply with the general principle that all tax-collecting bodies "must endeavor to contribute to the cost of administration and state production in accordance with his ability to pay."

Thus the taxation of land was followed by the taxation of movables or personality, and this, in turn, by a tax upon intangibles, such as stocks and bonds.

COMPARISONS

The minister pointed out the difference between the personal property tax as applied in Canada and in the United States. In the United States the general property tax was the basis of their system of taxation and included in many of the states the taxation of personal effects such as household furniture, pictures, watches, jewelry, farm machinery, harness, robes, blankets and saddles and in addition capital stock on national banks, mortgages, etc. In Canada, on the other hand, and particularly in British Columbia, the personal property tax is restricted to the following: Merchants' stock, chattels, store furniture and fixtures and shipping.

He pointed out the objections to the personal property taxes as follows:

(a) The lack of uniformity or the inequality in assessment.

(b) The lack of universality.

(c) That the personal property tax was an incentive to dishonesty in making returns.

(d) That it was a tax upon inability rather than a tax upon ability to pay.

The British Columbia basis of taxation in so far as movables and intangibles are concerned is the graduated income tax. It is simply an alternative tax, and is only imposed where the net income does not exceed the tax which is obtained by levying upon the personal property of the individual taxpayer.

He also gave examples of the inequity of the tax. In discussing why the tax which was so much criticized was not abolished, he gave several pertinent reasons:

YIELDS $400,000 ANNUALLY

The tax yields a revenue of $400,000 annually and up to the present the Government could not see its way clear to abolishing this tax without substituting some other impost.

"If the personal property tax were abolished a merchant with a considerable amount of money invested in stock, and who was making no profit, would have to pay a similar amount of money in tax in the form of a tax upon his land, whether he made a profit or not," said Dr. MacLean.

He pointed out the difficulties that would be met in endeavoring to get some taxpayers to make any contribution to the state if the personal property tax were abolished. He instanced the case of some Oriental who did not keep a set of books that were understandable and who, in the event of the abolition of the personal property tax, would almost escape paying taxation.

Drawing attention to the case of companies and commercial houses whose headquarters were outside the Province, and who did business in competition with the local firms, he said that their goods were frequently sold to them at such a price that no profit was made and the only way in which these people made to contribute was through the medium of the personal property tax.

The same was true of firms doing their business through local agents. The personal property tax was also a means of collecting some revenue from the fishing industry as shipping is assessed under the personal property tax.

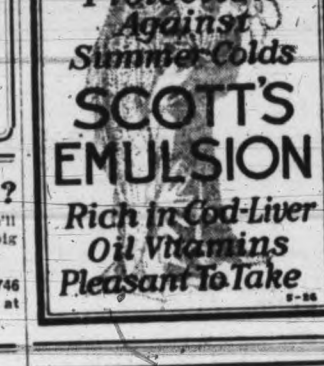

POSSIBLE SOLUTIONS

Possible solutions or alternatives if the personal property tax were to be abolished were outlined as follows:

(a) Arbitrary estimates of profits made by firms that did not submit returns; while this plan has been adopted to some extent the logic of the proposal was questioned, he said:

(b) A turnover tax upon business, or a gross income tax. This is a tax based upon the volume of business done without deduction of whatever it is designed to operate as a minimum tax and for this reason the rate would be fixed at a very low figure.

The proposal is that there should be a tax upon the sale of commodities and another tax on the sale of services. This would range from one-tenth of one per cent. in the first case to one-quarter of one-half of one per cent. in the second.

The legality of the tax has been investigated, and it is found to be within the scope of the Province.

A similar tax is in force in France, Mexico, the Philippines and Japan; in these countries, however, it is the main tax and usually amounts to one per cent. of the gross income, while in British Columbia it is proposed to have it as an alternative to the gross income tax.

PER CAPITA WEALTH OF VICTORIANS IS GROWING RAPIDLY

"The present annual general meeting is a particularly auspicious occasion," he proceeded, "enabling us to welcome formally for the first time the largest augmentation of new members to our ranks during any one year of our history. I take it that this accession is due to the fact that we are an action expressive of desire on the part of some hundred and fifty energetic and enthusiastic citizens, to utilize the medium of our body for the purpose of joining with others in performing effective work for our city. Our organization offers a very ready means to this end."

"I would ask you to remember that with the details of our work, accomplished or undertaken, during the period just passed, I do not wish to dwell on this phase for the reason that whatever our achievements, they form no justification for a future claim for support from our fellow citizens."

FOR FUTURE WELFARE

The only claim the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has to ask for such continued or increased support is just the extent to which it proposes and plans to work for the future welfare of the community. Amongst those actively engaged in our activities or in touch with them, there is no anxiety or doubt as to the fact that they are generally accepted that they stand ready, and in fact are carrying on the burden of the work at hand with all the energy and ability available.

"I would ask you to remember that our members as a body comprise a large proportion of the business interests of the city, and they are very fully occupied in their own affairs. Whatever time therefore they devote to the Chamber of Commerce is a voluntary contribution to the welfare of the community."

Of necessity there must be excellent judgment used, so that they only put their hands to such projects as offer some hope of success and a reward to the community for their efforts. Therefore it is a sensible first of all to review the existing conditions of the city and the purpose of gauging the justification for the necessary action.

ISLAND AS A WHOLE

"In this respect our thoughts must embrace Vancouver Island as a whole. In no part of this Province is the necessity for a general community of interest so apparent as with us, and a real prosperity can only be attained by harmony, concerted and united action by every district and municipality."

"No portion of this continent is more richly endowed by nature with resources available to the hand of man. Our 5,000 miles of seacoast is literally teeming with fish in quantities still almost unexploited. Our forest wealth is proportionately greater than that of any other part of the Dominion. In coal, minerals and other varied resources that invite industry we have more than abundance, and an attractive climate and scenery incomparably greater than any other portion of this continent. Wherever we turn we see development going on. Here and there a sawmill, a pulp mill, an additional fishing plant and station, new mines being opened up, old ones rehabilitated, new industries, settlers, built-up houses, and all that goes to indicate progress. Nowhere is the assurance of the future greater than in the City of Victoria."

ON VERGE OF REWARD

"To obtain a proper perspective, let us pause and look back at the past ten or even fifteen years ago. What was there to warrant the boast of 1892 or 1908, or our boasted 'survival of the fittest'? We have carried a big burden successfully, and are now on the verge of an adequate reward. In climate and beauty of scenery, we have a city equipped with a fine water supply, splendid roads, and all the make it its attractiveness absolutely unequalled. The per capita wealth of Victoria is astonishingly greater than it was a few years ago, and is growing very rapidly."

"From a commercial aspect our position is equally hopeful. A lumber assembly plant is just completed, which will make us one of the leading lumber shipping ports of the coast. Two grain elevators are contemplated and under negotiation, the largest drydock in the Empire is now ready for use with a great ship-building firm established alongside of it."

EXPANDING INDUSTRIALLY

"Industrially we are expanding. The Sidney Roofing Company are enlarging their plant, and the McMaster-Horton Shingle Company and the Canadian Western Co-operative have established themselves here within the last year."

"The foundation is obviously here, and the future sufficiently assured to warrant the devotion of time, labor and expenditure to the continuance and acceleration of the efforts this Chamber has been giving to the work at hand."

"May outline a major schedule of endeavor as worthy of our future activities and support to our body by every citizen, as follows:

"Ensure the operation of the lumber assembly plant to its maximum capacity."

"Bring to satisfactory conclusion negotiations for the establishment of two grain elevators."

"Make our outer docks the headquarters of the West Coast fishing industry as they should be by reason of our geographical position."

"Secure the building of a road from

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

The Northerner, even though he seems to prefer discovering quaint places in Southern France to surveying his own soil, must have indeed been blind if he did not realize that the old order is changing.

Just about a year ago Susan Glasgow brought forth a vividly realistic novel, "Barren Ground," in which "reality" crossed the Mason-Dixon line. More recently came T. S. Stripling's "Teetotalism," and Edith Kelly's "Weeds," and other striking examples of how the literary folk of the South land were mercilessly making the world to turn. In such books have been exposed the drabness, but Mims reveals the actual developments.

STEVENS ESTIMATES SMUGGLING LOSSES

Toronto, July 9.—Hon. H. H. Stevens, Acting Minister of Customs, addressing the Toronto Conservative Business Men's Club at luncheon yesterday said he believed the treasury of Canada had lost $20,000,000 annually through the smuggling of goods from the United States into Canada in the past. The merchants of Canada, he thought, had lost yearly from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000.

BREAD ON WATERS

Yakima, Wash., July 9.—Bread was cast upon the waters at Grandview this week. S. A. Sloanes was driving his bakery truck on the bank of a canal when something went wrong with the steering apparatus, causing the truck to "lunge" into an irrigation canal. Only a few bubbles marked the spot where the truck went down at first, but presently, flat loaves of bread popped to the surface and gently floated down the canal. The driver escaped injury.

VOTE IN AUSTRALIA LEADS TO DIVISIONS

People in August to Decide if Federal Industrial Arbitration Acceptable

Special to The Times
Melbourne, Australia, July 9.—Not since W. M. Hughes divided the Commonwealth electors with his conscription referendum during the World War have Australians been faced with so thorny an issue as that represented by the Prime Minister's referendum to be taken in August. Premier Stanley Bruce is spending $500,000 on getting the people's answer to the question of whether (1) they are willing to transfer to the Commonwealth Parliament the State Parliaments' powers to deal with industrial disputes, and (2) whether they are willing to grant the Federal authority power to legislate concerning essential services.

Tough many people agree that, in view of the overlapping of Federal and state industrial awards, and for other reasons, it is desirable the Federal Government should have the powers asked for, not so many close them, Mr. Bruce proposes to hand over the powers to deal with industrial disputes and monopolies to a Federal arbitration court, consisting of three judges appointed for life. The Federal parliament would thus never have the opportunity of exercising the power of which the state legislatures would be deprived. Further, the economic condition of eighty per cent. of the people would be decided by a tribunal of three men whose life tenure of office would place them above the necessity of paying heed to criticism. "Not if they were angels from Heaven," said Mr. Watt in the House of Representatives, would he consent to invest any three men with such enormous authority.

LABORS' ATTITUDE
Labor critics point out that wages, conditions and hours of labor and the regulation of industry would be in the hands of a tribunal who would be above Parliament and therefore above the people. As the court would have power to enforce arbitration and its awards, it would combine the functions of a law-making body and of a court interpreting its laws. In addition, as the judges would be appointed for life, they would be no appeal from their decisions. The court would presumably, like the high court of Australia, which interprets the Commonwealth constitution, allow an appeal only if it thought fit.

Labor is suspicious, too, because Mr. Bruce proposes to include in the questions to the electors that regarding essential services, which is considered to indicate an intention to acquire power to deal with persons who foment industrial strife. Mr. Bruce's recent "deportation bill" was condemned by the high court. Whether it is unfair to group this question with the other political ones strategists cannot agree. It was expected Mr. Bruce would through the conflict of state and Federal interests, but he has also apparently divided the Conservative section to some extent. When the Australian states federated in 1901 the Commonwealth Parliament was invested with certain powers, the states retaining all their other rights. Since then "State Rights" has been an issue often raised. The referendum will revive some of this political jealousy. The New South Wales (Labor) Government is flatly opposed to the referendum proposals, while the leader of the Federal Labor Party, Mr. Charlton, has supported Mr. Bruce since the latter agreed to ask for power to deal with trusts and combines as well as industrial disputes. For this, however, Mr. Charlton is to be brought to book by the Australian Labor Party, the great organization which keeps a close rein on the members of both state and Federal Parliaments.

The indications are that Labor, which has put five of the six states into power in the last election, will itself solidly against Mr. Bruce's proposals. Four previous attempts to alter the Federal constitution by referendum have failed. A majority of the electors as a whole, and to carry out the necessary majority of the electors, are necessary for any alteration. Political experts forecast a bitter campaign, made complicated by dissident minorities in both the Conservative and the Labor sections of the electorate.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Sufferers From Indigestion or Stomach Trouble CUT THIS OUT

"Stomach trouble, dyspepsia, indigestion, sourness, gas, etc., are caused nine times in ten by chronic acid stomach," says a well-known authority. "Burning hydrochloric acid develops in the stomach at an alarming rate. The acid irritates and inflames the delicate stomach lining and often leads to gastric ulcers. It doesn't dose an acid stomach with pepsin or artificial digestants that only give temporary relief from pain by driving the sour, fermenting food out of the stomach into the intestines. Instead, neutralize the acid with a little hot water and Bismarck Magnesia and not only will the pain vanish but your meals will digest naturally. There is nothing better than Bismarck Magnesia to soothe and settle an acid stomach. It soaks up the harmful excess acid much as a sponge soaks up water. It acts in a few minutes. Bismarck Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist in either powder or tablet form. It is safe, reliable, easy and pleasant to use, is a laxative and is not at all expensive." (Adv.)

Los Angeles Pastor to go Before Grand Jury Again Next Week

Los Angeles, July 9.—The country grand jury here next Tuesday is to resume its work. The hearing of the mysterious disappearance of Almeda Semple McPherson, evangelist, on May 18 and her reappearance thirty-five days later in northern Mexico. It is expected Mrs. McPherson, who told her story yesterday, will be recalled to continue her testimony. The Angellus Temple pastor was cross-examined yesterday afternoon by Deputy District Attorney Ryan. McPherson's story was that she had been in charge of the case. District Attorney Asa Keyes had questioned Mrs. McPherson intermittently as she told the jury her story of her kidnapping and spiriting away to Mexico by two men and a woman and there being held for $500,000 ransom until she escaped. The testimony was interrupted by a short recess, after which the cross-examination was launched. During one recess Mrs. McPherson held a hurried conference with her attorneys in the ante-chamber of the jury room.

SHARPER AT WORK

Police reports showed several persons in the throng that surrounded the entrance of the Hall of Justice and flooded the corridors of the building to greet the evangelist. The crowd was kept back by the police who sold printed tickets, purporting to entitle the holders to seats at the grand jury meeting. More than twenty persons reported buying the tickets at $2 each.

MONEY WAS BORROWED

Tucson, Arizona, July 9.—H. D. Hallenbeck, owner of a ranch near Yuma, Arizona, and a friend of Mrs. Almeda Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, borrowed a sum of money in Yuma on May 18, the day Mrs. McPherson disappeared, according to information received here by Chief of Police Jack Dyer.

Daring Voyage Ends in Disaster

Special to The Times

Brisbane, Australia, July 9.—After a long ocean voyage, Captain Prahl's little craft, called the Campan, was wrecked in Temple Bay, on the long peninsula, covered with dense tropical forests, which constitutes the northern portion of Queensland. Three survivors, named Symonds, Poynton and Clements, then set out on one of those adventurous treks by which the mysteries of the unknown portion of the continent are being gradually explored. Poynton's diary reads like that of many another adventurer, but in this case tragedy befell not the lost men but their rescuer. After days of struggling the two black guides deserted, and the white men, tortured by thirst and in agony from the wounds inflicted on their legs by the sharp teeth of the crocodiles, were left alone. They came on the camp of another white, named Dodd, who gave them food, and rested them. They noticed that he was ill with fever. The same afternoon Dodd, the good Samaritan, died, and on his horse the others reached Coen telegraph station, and civilization.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY PROGRESSIVE

W. T. Lucas, Late M.P. From Alberta, Differs With Robert Forke

Winnipeg, July 9.—W. T. Lucas, Alberta, yesterday gave out a signed statement which said: "I have read with interest the statements issued by E. J. Garland (late Progressive M.P. for Bow River, Alberta) and Robert Forke (late leader of the Progressive Party and late M.P. for Brandon). I take the position that neither of them is entitled to say that the Progressive group as a whole, and the statements referred to are simply expressions of individual members based upon certain interpretations of what took place during the last few days in Ottawa.

"These statements, I feel confident, do not express the views of at least some members of the Progressive group. Why would it passed to the General Assembly, they would support Mr. Meighen to speed the work of the session and pass the legislation which already had reached the Senate and which was of such importance to the West. If no such promise was given, why it may be asked, did Mr. Forke visit the Governor-General at all? Why was the memorandum prepared? Why would it passed unanimously by the Progressive group in conference? Furthermore, why did the members of the group sustain the Meighen administration on at least two divisions prior to the vote on constitutional question?

"I may be mistaken, but it would seem to me that the constitutional question is simply a smoke screen created by the Liberal Party and its supporters to becloud the real issue. The issue before the people is undoubtedly that of the Customs scandal. When the real facts are known this scandal will be disclosed as one of the worst that has ever besmirched the public life of this country. In the details are too horrible to permit of discussion from the public platform, but some means must be found to convey to the electors the truth with respect to the conditions which existed prior to the action taken by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

AUSTRALIANS DEFEND DEVELOPMENT PLANS

Special to The Times

Melbourne, Australia, July 9.—Unaware he was going to stir up a hornet's nest, F. H. Houlder, brother of the late Houlder Brothers and former, denounced to Australian reporters the policy and prospects of this country, was heading for ruin on a system of "boom, borrow and bust," and announcing he would never invest another penny in Australia. Houlder's position in the shipping world caused many leading Australians to discuss whether there was really any need to be alarmed at the visitor's jeremiads. It is agreed that the overseas observer hearing practically nothing of Australia except the disaster between labor and capital, forms a completely false impression.

The Commonwealth, says Prime Minister Bruce, is entitled to resent the malicious slanders contained in the phrase "boom, borrow and bust." Mr. Bruce says that Houlder can point to any other country where

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

The Young Mother.

The ills of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to his happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrup, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

Fletcher's Castoria safely relieves

AT THE THEATRES

PICTURE STUDIO IS SCENE OF BOISTEROUS COMEDY AT COLISEUM

In "Johnny Get Your Gun" at the Coliseum, the audience is introduced to a movie studio, with a company at work on a comedy. There is eventually more comedy than the movie director has bargained for when the leading man, a daring cowboy rider, refuses to have anything to do with any Chaplinesque stunts and flattery says that no one shall hit him in the face with a pie. Gales of laughter sweep the house as the curtain comes down on the "prologue" and the rest of the play is equally mirthful, including an extraordinary lassoing feat worthy of a rodeo.

CONWAY TEARLE IS AGAIN THE HERO OF DRURY LANE PLAY

Conway Tearle, popular screen hero, who was formerly associated with the famous Drury Lane Theatre in London is, by a strange coincidence, the star in a film version of one of the most successful of the Drury Lane plays. This is "The Sporting Lover," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre to-day.

In play form "The Sporting Lover" was known as "Good Luck." It is a story of an adventuresome Irish army officer who gambles away his famous racing stables and then wagers with his rival for the hand of the lady he loves.

The central episode of "The Sporting Lover" is the renowned English Derby. The race was actually filmed in the British Isles and shows the King and Queen, in addition to a vast company of royalty, present in the boxes.

Tearle for a time acted in a number of Drury Lane hits. This experience particularly fits him for the starring role in "The Sporting Lover." According to his own statement, it is one of the most interesting that he has portrayed since his distinguished role in June Mathis' "The Greater Glory."

WILD AND RUGGED MOUNTAIN SCENERY IN PLAYHOUSE FILM

One of the most beautiful scenic sequences in "The Ancient Mariner," Fox Films Version of Coleridge's poem, at the Playhouse Theatre, was photographed at Torrey Pines, California, where blue-fringed mountains rise high above the great Pacific.

Chester Bennett and a large company including Clara Bow, Nigel De Bruille, Earl Williams, Leslie Fenton, Wilson Henge and about a hundred extras "shot" scenes among the wild and rugged mountains that are so familiar to Southern California visitors.

A more beautiful and picturesque location could not have been selected, as it will bring back to theatre patrons who have visited Torrey Pines, memories of many pleasant hours spent among these famous pines.

NEW NIGHT RIDING, PAUL REVERE SEEN IN RUSSIAN FILM

Quiet night at a village on the Volga River, Russia, is shattered by a twentieth century Paul Revere, who shouts from a motorboat "revolution, we are free." Immediately the town awakes, cartloads of naked, ragged uniforms, offized and antiquated guns are passed out—and a Red Army composed of peasants takes the field.

Such is one of the striking, colorful scenes of Cecil De Mille's production, "The Volga Boatman" which is his second independently directed offering for Producers' Distributing Corporation and which will be shown at the Dominion Theatre next week. It is part of the colorful dramatic fabric of the most remarkable revolution of modern times against which plays a thrilling, virtue love story between a rough Volga Boatman, a human mule pulling craft along the river, and a high-born aristocrat, a princess of the blood. De Mille declares it "the greatest screen romance I have ever done."

"The Volga Boatman" was adapted by Lenore J. Coffey from Konrad Barcov's story. Featured players included William Boyd, Elinor Fair, Victor Varconi, Julia Faye and Theodore Kosloff.

SIDNEY AND MURRAY AS TEAM COMEDIANS WIN BIG REPUTATION

The team of George Sidney and Charlie Murray bids fair to become as famous on the screen as Weber and Fields were on the stage. In the many pictures in which this round son of Abraham and the wry faced son of Erin have appeared never have they been as funny as they are in

A FASCINATING DON JUAN

Estelle Taylor and John Barrymore

Hollywood—"Don Juan," the semi-legendary man in whom Eros found his best practitioner, whose name has become a synonym for careless love, and whose smile was as devastating as the dirk of his contemporaries upon the hearts he attacked—thus John Barrymore has fashioned him for the screen in Warner Brother's picture of that title.

The film, making no effort at historic exactitude, casts "Don Juan" as a burlesque of the scenes of Rome during the time of the poisonous Borgias, posing as his antagonist the notorious Lucrezia and her tainted family.

Barrymore throws himself spiritily into the dual roles of the elder "Don," tragically disillusioned of women, and of the son, pledged by the sire in his dying breath to create havoc in the lives of ladies who were his father's "great love" while his own heart remained cynically immune.

A fiery fascination, the doughty John gives his performance, achieving by turns moods playfully seductive and sinister, and by no means neglecting the comedy implications. It is a pretentious picture, an outstanding achievement for Warners, capably directed by Allan Crossland, and bringing to Barrymore's support such gifted principals as Warner Oland, Montague Love, Estelle Taylor, William Louis and Nigel de Bruille.

Oland impersonates Cesare Borgia, M. C. Levee's comedy, "Sweet Daddy," the attraction at the Playhouse Theatre next week.

Ben Turpin Marries the Second Time

Los Angeles, July 9.—Ben Turpin, cross-eyed screen burlesquer of married life, himself has entered the conjugal fold for the second time. He was married yesterday to Miss Fabette Elizabeth Dietz, formerly of Bismarck, N.D., who he first met a year ago while a patient in a San Bernardino hospital. The ceremony was performed in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills.

Turpin's first wife died several months ago.

HOLLYWOOD PLANS MUSEUM OF FILMS

Works of Art to be Preserved For Future Generations to View

Hollywood, July 9.—Hollywood, in different home of the cinema, is to have a movie museum.

Recognizing that bits of film artistry have been discarded when they lacked the "something" to ring the box office cash register, the Hollywood Film Guild has burst modestly into bloom.

Tangible form was given the guild this week with election of Douglas Fairbanks as president, Donald Crisp and Carey Wilson joint vice-presidents.

The organization has a stated purpose, "to revive and keep alive the classics of the cinema, as well as those films which closely approach the designation of masterpiece."

"Literature," "music," sculpture, painting and the drama have their classics," Donald Crisp said at the first meeting. "I see no reason why the worth-while achievements of the screen should not be preserved for future generations."

About 800 films will be produced this year, according to Crisp, most of them aimed at the box office.

"Mediocrity will be exhausted in their creation. Each film we eliminate like its predecessors—the same type of players will be featured, regardless of their merit in acting, place will be made to fit their particular personalities in many cases. And for whom? For a public which has been stupefied into accepting them through extensive and expensive publicity campaigns."

Guild members are drawing up a constitution and working out a membership list by means of elimination. They are also searching for "a little place on a side street" where the repertoire of the screen's artistry may be kept and shown.

URGE SAFETY ZONES FOR BUSIEST CITY STREET CROSSINGS

Suggestion From Board of Police Commissioners Will Go Before Council

The establishment of safety zones and platforms here for pedestrians who wait for street cars, was a suggestion put forward yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Police Commissioners. Chief of Police John Fry suggested that the safety zone system be adopted, following in the path of other cities of progressive governments, and the board decided that his plan was desirable. The safety zone system will be recommended to the City Council.

Four feet wide and thirty feet long, the platforms could be in the first place, said Chief Fry. That would be plenty of room in the beginning. These should be placed on Douglas Street, at the northwest corner of Yates and Douglas, and at Government Street, at the northwest corner of Fort and Government. Traffic congestion was heaviest at these points, said Chief Fry.

At the corner of Fort and Douglas Street, it might be desirable to have one safety zone platform, Commissioner Aitken said.

Chief Fry pointed out that once the board had power to build these platforms wherever it saw fit it might have them where they were needed all over the city.

Safety zones in big cities, said Commissioner Aitken, greatly relieved the traffic congestion in rush hours. They would allow traffic to speed up, give additional protection to pedestrians and be generally beneficial. Where there were safety zones, the commissioners say, automobiles are not bound to stop when a street car is discharging passengers, but only to proceed slowly and carefully.

DEATH ON SPEED
At the same time they are considering plans for the protection of pedestrians, the Victoria Police Commission is laying plans for catching and punishing of motorists who drive at reckless speeds in different parts of the city.

Walter J. Dandridge has taken upon himself to warn the board of speedily driving of automobiles on Oak Bay Avenue. He has warned them consistently. Mr. Dandridge has expressed a fear that someone will yet be killed because of these fast drivers on Oak Bay Avenue.

Traffic Inspector Boulton had made a survey of the existing conditions on Oak Bay Avenue and found that the danger was not as grave as Mr. Dandridge had implied.

Chief Fry told the board that the board has advised that its secretary write to Mr. Dandridge telling him that if he will bring to the police the numbers of cars which speed up the avenue, and appear as witness against them, the city police will prosecute them. This may assist in putting an end to reckless driving, the commissioners believe.

NEED NO RULING
A proposal to eliminate danger in that part of Port Street known as the "Dardanelles," emanating from the City Council and suggesting that no automobiles be allowed to overtake and pass another while passing through this narrow neck of road, was treated with consideration but scant ceremony by the board. Few cars tried to pass another in the "Dardanelles," Chief Fry said, and he could see no object in cluttering traffic there more than was necessary. This was the opinion of both the Mayor and Commissioner Aitken also.

BOY REWARDED FOR SAVING GIRL'S LIFE

Neil McKay of Luxton Swam to Aid of Girl in Distress

Special to The Times
Luxton, July 9.—A public presentation was made on the occasion of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute Flower Show, held in the Luxton Hall on Tuesday afternoon, by Miss Helen Kelly, P.H.N., supervisor of Girl Scout "Red" Girls' Health Club, to Neil McKay of Luxton, as a token of appreciation of his presence of mind and valor in saving the life of Elsie Hutchinson, a busy bee. While wading at Wilby's Beach, the little girl had paddled out beyond her depth and the boy, Neil, noticing that she was in difficulty and danger, swam out to her and managed to catch hold of her as she was sinking and succeeded in getting her to the shore, where first aid was rendered and artificial respiration was successful in restoring her to consciousness. Had it not been for the quick action of the boy the little girl would undoubtedly have been drowned and it was with a great deal of gratitude and thankfulness that the little public acknowledgment of the boy's courage and presence of mind was made.

ADVERTISE CITY

WINDING MEN

The second Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress will be held in Canada next summer, according to a communication received here by the Victoria Publicity Bureau, and delegates will attend from all parts of the world. On the itinerary of these men Victoria holds a place. They will visit the chief cities of Canada and hold business sessions in each place they stop. They will remain in Victoria some little time, according to the present plans, and will go into technical session here in all probability.

All members of the Constituent Institutions within the Empire are being individually circulated to stimulate interest in the Congress. The whole list will contain some 10,000 names. Ten pieces of mail will be sent to each member describing Canada and its resources, and from Victoria the publicity committee of the congress requires pamphlets in large numbers.

Do not overlook the fact that the pamphlets should be supplied in minimum lots of 10,000 each, better from George C. Mackenzie, Canadian secretary, reads.

The value to Victoria through the publicity gained in this way will be considerable, it is felt, and the Publicity Bureau will endeavor to accede to the demands of the Congress in every way possible.

SUGAR INDUSTRY IN B.C. PLANNED; AID OF PROVINCE URGED

Outside Capital Would Spend $1,250,000 on Mainland Plant if Subsidy Granted

Plan Operations on Large Scale, Employing 4,000 Acres of Beet Land

Establishment of a beet sugar industry in British Columbia will be undertaken by a mainland syndicate if the Provincial Government will subsidize the production of sugar at the rate of about $50,000 a year, the Cabinet was told to-day by W. R. Watson, Vancouver accountant, and his associates, A. F. Hale, E. J. Cluff and W. H. Thornton.

The proposition as laid before the Government involves the erection of a factory at Westminister costing about $1,250,000 and capable of handling 1,000 tons of beets a day. About 260 men would be employed in these operations 180 days a year.

The subsidy asked of the Government would amount to one-half a cent a pound on all sugar produced up to 10,000,000 pounds. On production over that mark the subsidy would be graduated downward and would not be paid at all after the output reached 15,000,000 pounds. The maximum subsidy under this scheme would thus be $62,500 a year and the average payment some $35,000 a year.

About 4,000 acres of land would be required to produce the beets necessary for the factory's successful operation.

Premier Oliver promised earnest consideration of this scheme, which involves the expenditure of capital from outside sources to a great extent. The Premier will find out how Ontario subsidized sugar production and with what success.

MRS. LEACHMAN AND BATES WIN WAY INTO MIXED SEMI-FINALS

It was a five set match and placed the San Francisco pair in the semi-finals, where they will oppose Miss Helen Tatlow and Dixon of Vancouver.

Miss Gladman of Santa Monica, is making a great play in the junior ladies' singles. In her three matches so far she has lost one game.

Victor and Gladman eliminated Miss Jean Campbell of Victoria, in two love sets.

In the junior men's singles Howard Laizure of Seattle defeated Tommy Todd of Seattle, 6-0, 9-7, while Walter Martin of Regina, runner-up last year, won over Bob Hoogs of Victoria, in which close game of three sets, 7-9, 6-3, 6-2.

This morning's results were as follows:

GOVERNOR RETURNS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER NORTHERN COUNTRY

Great Possibilities and Real Progress Noted by His Honor on Tour

Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce returned here to-day after a comprehensive tour of northern British Columbia, delighted with what he saw there.

His Honor was warm in his praises of the northern scenery and of the possibilities of the country. "A dominion within British Columbia," he called the northern areas. "I was amazed," he said, "at the extent of the country. It is a wonderful mixed farming area, and the settlers are of the type that go to make a wonderful development."

Speaking as a practical mining man, His Honor commented optimistically on the possibilities of this industry, which he saw in full operation at several points. Accompanied by Miss Helen MacKenzie, his niece, Hon. W. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, and Attorney-General Macdonald, Lieutenant-Governor returned from the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and then out to Hazelton, passing through the many towns en route.

His Honor was particularly impressed with the scenery along the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, and then out to Hazelton, passing through the many towns en route.

The expression "contagious" the class was informed, was no longer scientifically used.

After hearing of the disease-creating germs, the class was told of the more cheerful variety known as saprophytes, which, unable to thrive on living tissue, depend on dead organic matter and are necessary to the nourishment of plants and vegetables of the higher kingdom, which, in turn, nourish men and animals.

"If it were not for the bacterial activities, vegetable life would be extinct, plant life would end, the animal kingdom would have no

PRESERVATION OF PARK'S TIMBER TO GO BEFORE HOUSE

Members to Discuss Plans For Preventing Desolation of Island Beauty Spot

Preservation of all timber in Strathcona Park, on Vancouver Island, and the prevention of private logging there, will be discussed in the Legislature at its next session. Island members, it is learned, will bring the question up and urge Government action to put the Strathcona Park timber out of danger from the logger's saw and donkey engine.

This movement is expected to find strong support as the threatened cutting of timber along the shore line of Butts Lake, in the Strathcona Park, has caused alarm all over Vancouver Island and in other parts of the Province.

The view of the Provincial Government, as outlined by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, is that if the people of British Columbia want to pay the expense necessary for the preservation of the Strathcona Park timber they are entitled to do so. In other words, if the Government consented that the taxpayers are anxious for this action it will be prepared to secure the privately-owned timber by arrangement with the owners. Mr. Pattullo has the whole question under advisement now.

AMERICAN SAILOR TAKEN BY POLICE IS SPIRITED AWAY

Magistrate Jay Asks For Authority For Returning Sailor to His Ship

C. L. Harrison, City Prosecutor, Will Investigate For Irregularities

Paul McDaniel of the U.S.S. Seattle, against whom a charge of being in possession of a stolen automobile appeared on the slab in the city police court this morning, did not stand before Magistrate Jay to-day. The charge had aroused considerable interest, since McDaniel, Constable James Strong was led a merry chase when the accused in the stolen car found he was followed last night. The officer eventually caught the seaman after chasing him about when he had deserted the car.

The court was bare of American seamen this morning. McDaniel was nowhere to be seen.

C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, looked about for the seaman, but he was not there. His Honor looked up from his work and watched the prosecutor questioning. Constable W. Harper, on duty in the court room, stepped to the side of the prosecutor and spoke briefly to him.

"There should be some investigation of this thing," said Mr. Harrison, "I cannot say."

FLOCKING TO GORGE TOURIST CAMP NOW

With Schools Closed Visitors
From United States Pour in

Two Hundred Vacationists
Enjoy Life at Curtis Point

Now that schools are closed in the United States tourists are flocking to the Victoria Automobile Camp on the banks of the Gorge at Curtis Point. Between forty and fifty cars in the daily average of the camp register and most of the visitors make a stay of at least seven days.

As in former years, so great is the attraction of the shady camping grounds beneath the trees to motorists seeking a haven from hot driving along the highways that few are making a stay of less than a week.

PLAN AIR ROUTE ACROSS ATLANTIC

Passenger Line Mooted Between Atlantic City and Plymouth, England

100-Acre Anchored Landing Fields With Hotels in Mid-Ocean

Philadelphia, July 8.—A transatlantic air line between Atlantic City and Plymouth, England, eight 100-acre floating and anchored landing fields fitted with sumptuous hotels in mid-ocean, a fleet of super-jetliners that would carry twenty-five passengers each in addition to baggage, a series of powerful acetylene searchlights that would blaze a trail of light across the Atlantic.

This is the outline of a thirty-hour voyage from America to England as conceived by Howard R. Armstrong of Philadelphia, chief of the mechanical experimental development division of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Delaware.

Armstrong has been flying since he was eleven years old, and the idea of flying across the Atlantic has been in his mind since he was a boy.

Next Wednesday he will display his model to United States and Navy officials, representatives of large shipbuilding concerns and experts in the field of commercial aviation.

Liner De Grasse Will Arrive Back In Port To-night

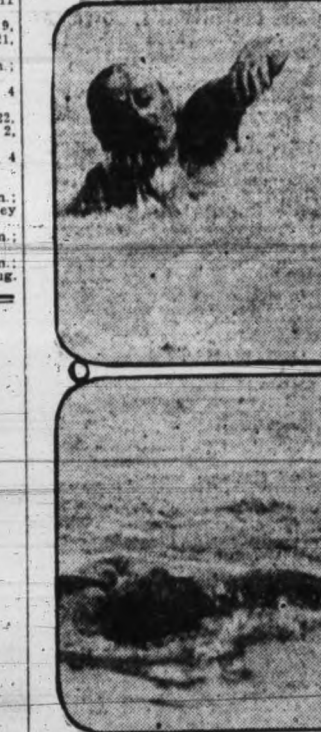

New York, July 9.—In a message to the Associated Press Capt. Aubert of the French liner De Grasse said tonight that the liner was returning to New York at ten knots with the starboard turbine damaged, and probably would arrive to-night.

The accident occurred yesterday when the ship was thirty miles out. Capt. Aubert's message said that the passengers were in "complete safety."

The 515 passengers on the liner will be transferred on the liner to the Royal Mail liner Ohio, the United American liner Cleveland and the Holland-America liner Ryndam, all sailing Saturday.

Charles F. Earle, general passenger agent for the Canadian National Railway in Victoria, announced this morning that with the sailing of the steamer Prince Charles from Vancouver to-morrow and subsequently the call of Canadian National steamers at Anxox north-bound on Mondays at 11 p.m. will be discontinued.

ICE MESSAGE? THAT'S WHAT CHANNEL'S LIKE, SAYS LILLIAN

Lillian Cannon and her trainer, William Burgess, playing in the icy waters of the English Channel like a pair of sportive porpoises

By LILLIAN CANNON

Gris Nez, France, June (By Mail).—Now I know what training to swim the channel means.

The first day I arrived, Bill Burgess showed me the channel.

The second day he put me into the water for ten minutes.

The third day he began serious training and I didn't get out of that cold, clammy sea until thirty minutes had passed.

Now my stint is never less than an hour a day.

That hour seems easy to those who are pleasureing along the coasts of California or Virginia—but remember that Capt. Gris Nez is in the same latitude as Labrador and the waters of the North Sea sweep down from Iceland and other places where the icebergs begin.

Until one gets used to the cold it feels exactly as if there was an ice pack all over the whole body. There is a numbness that comes over one that is absolutely paralyzing.

Then, after one has become used to the cold, that chill is rather exhilarating.

After nearly a month of it I feel more or less cocky every time I get on my swimming suit.

Burgess thinks now that I am ready for really serious training. So I am to do an hour a day for two days. Then I shall be in the water for two hours for the next two days. On the fifth day, I stay in three hours. The sixth day it will be a rest and I will do exactly what I want to.

Then on the seventh day I am to swim five miles.

This programme is to be repeated for two weeks while Burgess decides as to whether I am of channel calibre.

The final test will be a swim from Boulogne to Calais, which is about thirty miles, which will be my graduation effort. Burgess won't say whether or not I can do a thing until he has tried me out thoroughly.

His watchword seems to be confidence—but not too much.

"Don't be afraid," he is always telling me, "but, on the other hand, don't underestimate the job before you."

I am not underestimating it.

Steering Gear of Ship Breaks Down At San Francisco

San Francisco, July 9.—The steering gear of the N.Y.K. liner Korea Maru, which arrived here yesterday from the Orient, went out of commission while the vessel was entering the bay and the steamer had to be towed to her berth by tugs. The Korea Maru brought in a large list of passengers, 250 in all, and a heavy cargo of general freight including 2071 bales of silk and thirty-three chests of gold and silver bullion.

Repairs costing $15,000 will be made on Pier 26, the under pinning of which have begun to ship. William A. Sherman gave this advice out here yesterday. The board also voted to construct a new fire house near the third draw bridge.

Dockworkers at Antwerp Resume Work on Vessels

Antwerp, July 9.—Work was resumed by the dockers at this port today, where 100 vessels, many of them trans-Channel and coastwise, were held by the dockers' strike. Conditions became so serious that the Governor of Antwerp Province and the burgomaster of the city ordered granting of terms of the dockworkers.

Charter Market

San Francisco, July 9.—Latest chartering follow: St. George Park, lumber, British Columbia to Japan, time charter, four to five months, private terms, by the Canadian American Shipping Company; Ms. Nordval, time charter, twelve to eighteen months, delivery on the North Pacific, private terms, by W. L. Conyn and Company, September.

CREW OF WRECKED SUBMARINE DIED AT THEIR POSTS

Radio Operator Found With Head Over Keys; Seaman Had Hands on Valve

New York, July 9.—The dead members of the crew of the submarine S-51 died at their posts, Lieut. Commander Ellsberg said last night. As the rusty, torn bulk of the submarine lay in drydock at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Ellsberg for the first time told what the divers working under him saw in the vessel as it lay on the ocean bed off Block Island, where she sank after being rammed by the City of Rome last Fall.

"While the S-51 was at the bottom divers entered through the hatchways and explored her," he said. "Every man seen was at his station. Some of them had their hands on valves."

"We saw J. M. Schofield, radio operator, at his post, the body rigid in a chair, his head and shoulders bobbing up and down in the green water over the keys of his instrument."

"We saw the body of another seaman in the engine room bulkhead stretching his arm out grasping a lever in an attempt to close an emergency valve."

Australia Has Surplus For Year

Melbourne, July 9 (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters)—Hon. E. G. Page, Treasurer of the Commonwealth, today announced that the Commonwealth had a surplus for last year of $1,445,000, in addition to $12,500,000 paid into the fund for special services. Provision is made in the budget for the raising of a loan of $10,000,000 to be used toward the cost of transferring the Parliament to Canberra, the new capital.

The budget imposes increased taxation of four cents a gallon on gasoline, 15 per cent on automobile tires and 2 1/2 per cent on motor chassis.

The Minister mentioned that the government, through the Commonwealth Bank, intended to provide $125,000,000 for a housing scheme.

MODELS OF PLANES MADE BY ESKIMOS

Seattle, July 9.—When Eskimos at Point Barrow, Alaska, arrived at the expedition here yesterday. But when the expedition next visited Barrow, Eskimo children were found playing with models of planes constructed of the hides and bones of walrus and seals.

Barrow said the inability of the expedition's planes to carry sufficient gasoline was responsible for its failure.

DIRECTORS' REPORT TELLS HOW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS WORKED FOR COMMUNITY

Brief Review of Year's Activities Points to Many Accomplishments During Memorable Year; Members and Groups Cordially Thanked for Loyalty and Support

Activities aimed to help in the industrial development of Vancouver Island, the work accomplished by groups of the Chamber, and many other phases embraced by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce are referred to in a survey of the last twelve months' activities contained in the report of the directors presented at the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to-day. The report, which was read to the meeting by George I. Warren, managing secretary, was as follows:

In reporting upon the activities of the organization at the closing of the Chamber's year with our election of officers during the month of April last, it is gratifying to be able to say that the position, so far as membership and finances are concerned, has been well maintained, and the same may well be said of the useful and varied activities.

As to the necessity for the maintenance of a strong and representative membership, which might be said and this opportunity is taken to impress upon the individual member the duty which falls to him to endeavor to secure at least one new member, annually, and for this reason, an appeal is made to each and every member to not only maintain his own membership but in backing the efforts of the Directorate by enlisting the interest of others.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

During September last, it will be remembered that the Chamber undertook what proved to be a successful membership campaign, an effort which in its relation to pride and interest on the part of those who took so conscientious and commendable a part in the drive is worthy of more than ordinary comment. However, the opinion now prevails that something in the nature of a continuous campaign, or in other words, a sustained interest on the part of the Chamber's present members to the extent of maintaining the strength and interest in this connection, some of which will contribute materially to what is absolutely essential to our progress and continued accomplishments, namely: a strong and interested membership.

The success attending the fore-mentioned campaign, prompted the reorganization of the Forum committee, which, composed of some of our most active members, left no stone unturned to re-establish what really should prove the main branch of the organization, namely, the Members' Forum itself. The first and most excellent move on the part of this self same committee was to furnish to each member a questionnaire inquiring as to the subject believed to be of leading importance as they related to community progress, the intention being to feel the pulse of the membership, following which it was intended to arrange General Membership Forum meetings at which capable exponents would be invited to open the proceedings with an address on the subjects chosen to take sequence according to the consensus of opinion as expressed on the questionnaire. Several Forum meetings were held, and as yet, the subjects chosen to be discussed, with the approach of the Summer holiday season, further gatherings were postponed until the early part of the coming Fall.

The phase of the Chamber's work should not be allowed to pass without the brief comment that it is through the medium of Forum meetings that individual members will come more closely in touch with the activities of a Chamber of Commerce and, by the way, will be privileged to participate in the exchange of ideas so necessary, and all-important to the broadening of the individual outlook. This, together with the consummation of ideas is undoubtedly the chief accomplishment in the pathway to the solution of both civic and commercial problems and the progress which creates an essentially desirable pride in any community.

MAJOR ACTIVITIES

To briefly set out some of the major activities, it is fitting to here refer to the Grain Elevator situation and the efforts made to encourage the construction of elevators at Victoria. We are all aware of the success attending the passage of the By-law which extended certain privileges to the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals, Limited. Certain of our members and directors gave unstintingly of their time and effort in securing from the Dominion Government the necessary permission to lease suitable property for the purpose, and considerable success also attended the efforts with the Canadian National Railway officials to the end that they would lend their every effort and interest to parties who might contemplate engaging in the grain business at this port. To be brief, it may be said that the Chamber's activities to date in this connection have been indeed well justified as is evident from recent telegrams received which show that intentions of competent capitalists are exceedingly prompt.

A Lumber Assembly plant at the Outer Docks materializes daily. Considerable large expenditures have already been made in connection with the installation work. This, as all are well aware, is an activity which means a great factor in the development of the port, its general facilities and encouragement to export and to the centering of further lumbering activities on the Island and in the near vicinity of Victoria.

It is fitting to refer to what is practically the completion of the new Esquimalt drydock. Those of you who have been privileged to view the structure at the present stage will have done so with pride—not only from the realization of its value and importance to the port itself, but from the standpoint of the part played by the organization in the decision to construct it.

One of our main activities which terminated so successfully and which is deserving of special mention is that of a Crystal Garden and Swimming Pool. The members of the Committee responsible in bringing this undertaking to a successful issue are deserving of outstanding appreciation for their indefatigable interest and effort.

ISLAND HIGHWAY
In securing the consent of the Provincial Government to surface the Island highway, which is now being undertaken in sections according to stretches where travel is heaviest, this Chamber was the leading instrument in the effort to present the parts of the Island united front as regards a general arrangement.

With this activity may be coupled the organizing of the Up-Island or East Island Coast tour which, without doubt, not only cemented already established business relations, but brought about an improved condition in this regard.

While referring to organized tours, it would be a serious oversight to omit mention of the trip along the West Coast by the Ss. Maquinna which, aside from its great educational value, proved a mission of no mean value to Victoria.

Your Chamber has, on more than one occasion, been instrumental in bringing together the responsible authorities to the end that the roads leading to the famous Butchart's Gardens might be kept in reasonable repair and it is now hoped that contemplated proposals will result in work which will prove of a more permanent surfacing of this all-important roadway.

The subject of Municipal finances has received careful consideration and much time has been disposed of it from time to time.

Linked with this, and well worthy of attention, is the most earnest consideration and effort given the Big Lake development proposal, the City and Saanich sewer connection, the City's water scheme, the Chamber having at all times been active in matters pertaining to city undertakings where it was believed the experience and ability of our members might prove of some worthwhile assistance.

FOREIGN TRADE
This year's report would not be complete without a reference to the accomplishments of the Chamber through the efforts of several members of the Chamber who were present at the Pacific Foreign Trade conference held in April at San Francisco. The Chamber's delegates set up a strenuous and successful fight to bring this influential gathering in face of the organized efforts of Los Angeles to secure it. This convention will be one of the most important trade conventions which has ever been held in Canada. Many influential and public people have signified their intention of being present, among whom are E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and his directors; Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways Company and his vice-presidents; Jas. J. Farrell, president of the International Foreign Trade Council and others.

The occasion proved of especial note inasmuch as the address of our president brought about not only an unusually enlightening aspect of the resources and possibilities of both the Province and the Island to those in attendance, but from the evidence we have since had indicated to us, the address reached the hands of many leading business men and our cousins to the South of us. In fact, one outcome alone will instance somewhat of results achieved; namely: the invitation received from James Farrell, of the United States Steel Corporation, to your president to not only attend and address the National Foreign Trade convention at Charleston, but at the same time appealing to him on behalf of organizing the whole of Canada to the end that the various Provinces and prominent business institutions throughout the Dominion should be represented at what is today looked upon as one of the world's leading Trade conferences. In having representation at this gathering, Victoria not only took advantage of a wonderful opportunity to establish new channels for export business, but also, by taking the lead in the organizing of Canada's interest and representation at the gathering, left an impression of Victoria's importance and possibilities as a world port that may prove of no small value in the near future.

Existing legislation as it affects Succession Duties and its important relation to the investment of capital in the Province, has received the continued attention of the Chamber for some time now, to a point where the agitation has become a Dominion-wide effort.

LEADING ITEMS
Time not permitting of a more detailed explanation of the many and varied activities undertaken, the following is a brief of some of the more leading items of interest:
Establishment of a Loggers' Bureau here.
Retention of Canadian Western Co-operative Company.
Retention of Ormond's factory.
Encouragement of McMaster-Horton Cedar Manufacturing Company to locate here.
Appeals on behalf of much needed hydrographic survey work and better life-saving facilities on West Coast.

Appeals for much needed developments at Sidney.

Amendments to Provincial Legislation as affecting taxation.
Investigation regarding installation of coast bunkering facilities.
Staged home products fair and other activities on behalf of the general campaign.
Interchange of railway connections.
The interest of the members in the individual groups of the Chamber has been notable for the maintenance of the attendance and the work accomplished.

WORK OF GROUPS

The Tourist Trade group has held many meetings during the year and has devoted considerable time to many important matters. This group took the initiative in arranging for the successful clean-up and paint-up campaign last year. The group also covered the many thoroughfares in the city and tabulated all street intersections where street signs should be erected, recommending same to the City Council who acted favorably and had the desired street signs placed throughout the business section of the city. Three members of this group have been continuously acting as directors of the Curtis Point Automobile Camp. The group arranged for daily visits to the Auto Camp during the Summer where many of our guests were acquainted with the residential, industrial and scenic possibilities of Vancouver Island.

Three members of the group served throughout the year on the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Park committee. Various historic sites in the city were suitably marked by members of the group. Weekly entertainments were organized during the Winter for the benefit of our many Prairie visitors, calling for considerable hard work by the members who secured the co-operation of the different service clubs.

The Agricultural group completed arrangements for the holding of a Potato Fair and members have attended different Farmers' Institute meetings in districts adjacent to this city. A strawberry festival was held and the group has been complimented upon the success of this new feature. The Industrial group has given considerable attention to the industrial development of this community and assisted considerably in the retention of the Co-operative Company and Ormond's factory in this city. The group broadcast over radio CFCT a playlet featuring the industries of Victoria. The Home Products Fair was held under the auspices of the Industrial Group.

In conclusion reference should be made to the loyalty of the members of the Chamber of Commerce who have personally helped to further the interest of our community in the district, particularly those who have been most active in the activities of the different groups. Many meetings have been held and considerable time has been devoted by these members which has resulted in the accomplishment of the matters mentioned in this report.

The staff also has been very efficient in carrying out the directions of the committee and groups, and the directors hope that during the next year the active co-operation, assistance and loyalty of every member will be given in order that we may secure the very best results from our activities.

These Motorists Know About Balloon Tires!

THE important part of this advertisement was written by people who have used Goodyear Balloon Tires. Read what they say—and remember, this is but a tiny echo of a countrywide chorus of approval. Please note that every desirable feature of tire performance is represented in their testimony.

And ask yourself, in the light of these facts, if Goodyear Balloon Tires are not the tires you want. What a fine tribute, too, these letters are to the celebrated Goodyear SUPERTWIST Cord!

Most of the superior service qualities mentioned here can be traced to this extra-elastic, extra-durable material. An exclusive Goodyear development, SUPERTWIST is now used in all Goodyear Cord Tires—balloon sizes and high-pressure sizes.

And they are sold by Goodyear Selected Dealers everywhere.

In 1924 I equipped my car with Goodyear Balloons and have since gone 11,000 miles. The tires show very little sign of wear and have given me perfect satisfaction.

The set of Goodyear Balloons which I bought two years ago is still going strong. They show a mileage of between 28,000 and 30,000 and look good for 10,000 more. I use my car to demonstrate Lovejoy Shock Absorbers and I pick out the roughest roads. During the past year I have had two wheels broken and had my brakes re-lined twice—but no tire trouble.
Fred E. Lake.

Toronto, Ont.
We have been operating two Star Sedans on Goodyear Balloons and the original ten tires have delivered over 27,000 miles, are still on and look good. We have cut our overhead by reducing tire cost per mile and the extra cushioning has materially lowered our car depreciation, while the comfort afforded by Goodyear Balloons has increased our patronage.
Ernest Rankin.

Kitchener, Ont.
It has been decided to use Goodyear Tires on the fleet of cars operated by this company. Naturally, on this commodity, as well as on other supplies purchased, we try to get the best value for our money. Our records show that we have less trouble and get more mileage out of Goodyears than any other tires and for this reason the decision was made.
Geo. S. Ahrens.

St. Georges Est., Beauce, Que.
On the 14th of July, 1924, I bought a Dodge Coupe which was equipped with five Goodyear tires. To date I have received more than 22,000 miles and of the five, three seem to be good for 4,000 to 5,000 additional miles.
J. W. Marcotte.

Winnipeg, Man.
In 1924 I equipped a Ford coupe with Goodyear Balloons bought from M. A. Cory of Medicine Hat. The car was driven through snow, ice and all kinds of roads in my regular work as traveling superintendent of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. I sold the car in February of this year and when I last heard of it the same tires were on it. I cannot swear to the mileage, but the point-to-point distance I drove them is between 27,000 and 31,000 miles.
W. M. Mathison.

Winnipeg, B.C.
I have driven the Goodyear Balloons on my Dodge Touring over 20,000 miles and two of them have never been changed. All are in good condition and they are certainly a great saving in car depreciation.
Dr. Jervis.

Nanaimo, B.C.
In 1925 I equipped my Oldsmobile Six with Goodyear 32 x 4.95 Balloons. I drove them over the worst of the Island roads and got an average of 22,000 miles from them. The car rides splendidly and over the worst roads I never once used chains.
Dave W. Thom.

Scott Junction, Que.
For your reference I can advise you that I have been more than pleased with your Balloons. I have travelled over 14,000 miles with the same set without any trouble. These tires are still on my car and I expect to make from two to three thousand miles more with them.
R. Lebel.

Montreal, Man.
I have travelled over 15,000 miles on the first set of Goodyear Balloons purchased in this town and I have had no trouble. The tires have been used three years and when they are to be replaced, I can assure you that Goodyear Tires will be used.
